

Canadian Gemmological Association (CGA)

The Montreal School of Gemmology (EGM) offers preparatory classes and practical support for students who wish to write the Canadian Gemmological Association's (CGA) exams to become a Fellow of the Canadian Gemmological Association (FCGMA).

All FCGMA preparatory programs begin in January and students can choose programs that run over six, twelve or eighteen months.

Our preparatory programs for both the CGA and Gem-A exams are essentially the same and students in both programs will have common courses.

Correspondent students preparing at their own pace for the CGA exams often find it extremely helpful to follow EGM courses and workshops at the same time. Many students studying for the EGM Gemmology Certificate have also prepared for and successfully passed the CGA exams.

Gemmology 5 is the perfect course for correspondence students who want hands-on practice with gems.
